Who We Are

The Heart and Soul of Our Conferences

The InDesign Conference and The Photoshop Conference feature top experts and trainers in the field of design, production, and publishing—including David Blatner, Deke McClelland, Russell Viers, Anne-Marie Concepción, Mike Rankin, Keith Gilbert, and Michael Ninness. We produce the world's best “how-to” conferences for creative professionals, and our speakers are the heart and soul of our events.

Adobe and other industry developers recognize the value of seeing so many thought-leaders in the same place, and each year send product managers and engineers to meet and interact with our audience. Our community of publishers, designers, and developers makes a unique opportunity for attendees, sponsors, and speakers alike to learn, connect, and build long lasting relationships.

This Is the Event For You

Our attendees are designers, production artists, and publishers interested in keeping up with best practices and the newest innovations in software and publishing workflows.

Our audience spans a wide spectrum of experience, from “newbies” to “old mavens.” Attendees at previous events have come from companies large and small, including Apple, Costco Wholesale, Microsoft, New England Journal of Medicine, Nike Apparel, Pfizer, Valpak, and Walmart.

If you want to become an InDesign or Photoshop power user, The InDesign Conference and The Photoshop Conference are the place for you.

It's About the Content Whether you make short interactive documents; images for web, print, and digital media; or publications thousands of pages long, these events will teach you how to work with InDesign and Photoshop smarter, faster, and with more confidence.

It's About the Community You'll learn a ton from the presenters on stage, and even more in one-on-one conversations with the speakers and your colleagues. These events bring you together with others who are working to solve the same kinds of problems you are.
